

The Harold R. Johnson Diversity Service Award

NOMINATION FORM

Named in honor of Harold R. Johnson, Dean Emeritus of the School of Social Work, this award was established in 1996 to recognize faculty whose service goes above and beyond their regular duties to contribute to the development of a culturally and ethnically diverse campus community. Five awards are made annually. Each includes a $5,000 stipend.

Nominations will be accepted for all regular instructional and research faculty, including librarians, curators, and archivists on the Ann Arbor campus. Nominations are welcome from faculty, staff, and students. The nomination should be no longer than 2000 words and should explain the particular distinction that makes the nominee exceptionally qualified for this honor using one or more of the following criteria:

- Public and/or academically oriented endeavors that demonstrate intellectual excellence and commitment to cultural diversity in service, teaching, scholarship, and/or creative activity
- Efforts to increase diversity or improve the climate within one's academic unit and/or the University
- Efforts to use scholarly and/or creative work to enhance the success of students and faculty of diverse cultural and racial backgrounds
- Willingness to serve as a mentor to students who have a commitment to diversity and social justice
- Sustained effort and demonstrated outcomes to bring about equity in our community or society as a whole

The nomination may incorporate quotations from former and current student, peers and faculty, and communities impacted by the nominee's work.

Nominations must include the following: This cover sheet, a nomination letter (no longer than 2000 words) from the nominator, and a copy of the nominee's C.V.

Please send the nomination packets in a single pdf to: lharring@umich.edu

Nomination deadline: March 23

If you have questions, please call Laura Harrington at (734) 764-3982
