University of Michigan CHILDREN'S CENTERS

University of Michigan Children's Centers provide a supportive and consistent learning environment for children of university faculty, staff, students and the local community. Our centers provide warm, nurturing settings that encourage children to learn through hands-on, interactive exploration. Our play-based approach and child-centered curriculum encourage children to construct their own knowledge. In partnership with parents, we strive to create learning environments that develop a sense of belonging and self-esteem in each child. We believe this philosophy represents a strong foundation on which to begin lifelong learning and to launch a positive sense of self, others and the world.

Our three children's centers serve over 450 children, ranging in age from infants to age five, and are conveniently located near the Ann Arbor Central Campus, North Campus and the Health System.
